

Chenango County 4-H Market Animal Auction Program Guidelines

1. Auction Details:

- The Chenango County 4-H Market Animal Auction Program is organized by the Chenango County 4-H Livestock Auction Committee, a volunteer group working in coordination with Cornell Cooperative Extension of Chenango County (CCECC). Its goal is to establish an enduring, education-focused livestock auction program with an emphasis on youth education, recognition, fairness, and alignment with core 4-H values.
- This year's auction scheduled to be held at 6:30 pm on Friday, August 14, 2026, at the Chenango County Fair.
- Baked goods and donated product baskets will be sold via silent or chance auction.
- All project animals will be auctioned off live and will go through a sale ring in the main show ring at the fairgrounds, apart from poultry which are sold processed. They must be in good market condition.

2. Eligibility:

- Youth must be currently enrolled in the Chenango County 4-H Program and be at least 8 years old as of January 1st to be eligible to participate in the 4-H Market Animal Auction Program.
- New 4-H members must be enrolled in the Chenango County 4-H Program by February 1st to participate.
- Cloverbud members (youth ages 5-7) are not eligible.

3. Auction Terms:

- Participants must accept all risks involved (trucking, exhibition, and handling losses).
- Members are responsible for the care, feeding, and appearance of their project animals until transferred.
- All 4-H project animals must meet the health requirements of the NYS Department of Agriculture and Markets and must be accompanied by a valid health certificate.
- Participants will be charged a 5% sales commission fee and national check off fee for each project animal sold in the 4-H Market Animal Auction. These fees will be deducted from the auction proceeds check.
- When a lot is purchased, the participant receives 95% of the proceeds and the 4-H Auction Committee receives the 5% commission fee. If the lot is donated back, 100% of the proceeds for the second sale and beyond go directly to the Chenango County 4-H Youth Development Program.
- Payment must be completed during the sale. Accepted forms of payment are cash, check, or credit card. All buyers will pay CCECC for the full amount of their purchase. CCECC will then distribute payments to participants.
- For liability reasons, project animals sold through the auction will be transported to designated processors by designated truckers unless the buyer chooses another form of transportation. Fees for the trucking of project animals to designated processors will be covered by the 4-H Market Animal Auction Program. If the buyer chooses another form of transportation or chooses to send the animal to a location other than one of the designated processors, the buyer is responsible for arranging and paying for that transportation.
- Buyers are responsible for paying processing costs for poultry lots. This fee will be added to auction invoices.

4. Requirements for Participation:

- Members are required to attend a minimum of three (3) 4-H Educational Events and submit their completed Educational Event Forms to the 4-H Office by the third Friday in July to participate. Forms may be submitted online or by hard copy to the 4-H Office and must be complete to receive credit. Contact the 4-H Office to confirm if an event qualifies as an educational event. Examples of qualifying events: attending a livestock show, judging contest, public presentations, 4-H trip, etc.
- Members are required to complete a 4-H Project Record Book for each species they intend to sell. Project

Records Books must be submitted to the 4-H Office to be reviewed for Achievement Day. Failure to submit a Project Record Book for an animal sold will result in disqualification from the following year's auction.

- Members are required to submit a signed Acknowledgement of Rules Form at their species' initial weigh-in. Form must be reviewed by participants and signed by a parent/guardian.
- Participants must compete in appropriate 4-H showmanship and breed classes to be eligible.

5. Project Animal Limits:

- Members may show and sell a maximum of three (3) project animals. A pen of 3 chickens or 3 fryer rabbits will count as one project animal. A pen of 2 ducks will count as one project animal. ## 9. Liability Disclaimer:

All individuals attending or participating in this auction event do so voluntarily and at their own risk. Cornell Cooperative Extension of Chenango County (CCECC), the Chenango County 4-H Program, and the 4-H Auction Committee (collectively, "Organizers") expressly disclaim any and all liability for personal injury, death, property damage, or financial loss arising from attendance, participation, or interaction with animals or equipment at this event, except in cases of gross negligence or willful misconduct.

The Organizers make no warranties, express or implied, regarding the condition, behavior, health, or merchantability of any animal or item sold. All sales are final and conducted on an "as-is, where-is" basis.

CCECC does not assume ownership of any livestock or poultry presented at the auction and is not responsible for any disputes, misrepresentations, or non-payment issues between buyers and sellers. The Organizers reserve the right to refuse entry or sale of any animal for any reason, including but not limited to health, safety, or compliance concerns.

CCECC cannot guarantee payment for any livestock bids made by public bidders. All bidders are responsible for fulfilling their financial obligations. Failure to do so may result in forfeiture of the item or animal and potential exclusion from future events.

This event is coordinated to provide educational opportunities for youth under the 4-H program. Participation implies acknowledgment and acceptance of these terms. Attendees are encouraged to exercise caution and consult appropriate professionals when making decisions related to animal handling or the sale of livestock.

10. Seller Acknowledgment and Signature

By signing below, I, the seller, acknowledge that I have read, understood, and agree to the terms outlined in the Liability Disclaimer provided by Cornell Cooperative Extension of Chenango County (CCECC), the Chenango County 4-H Program, and the 4-H Auction Committee. I confirm that I am the rightful owner of the animal(s) I am selling, and I accept full responsibility for any representations I make regarding said animal(s). I release the Organizers from any liability associated with the auction and its outcomes.
